

Calvin Seminary's
Distance Learning
Program

Calvin Seminary's distance learning program allows students to continue serving in their local church or ministry setting without sacrificing the academic quality, real-world experience, or important community of a traditional program. Available in all our entry master-level programs (MDiv, MA, or MTS), these degree programs are designed to fit into the full life of our students.

Thank you for your support! Learn more about the distance learning program at:
